

Dear IBGA Sponsors,

We are looking forward to spring as we start our show season! We know that many of you have been sponsors of this great organization for many years. Some of you have recently started showing in our series. We welcome all of you to be a sponsor of the Indiana Boer Goat Association (IBGA).

Did you know that the IBGA is a non-profit organization run entirely by a volunteer Executive Committee elected from our membership which supports the Boer goat youth industry? As such, the Executive Committee operates on a tight budget that must support an array of annual operating expenses related to operating our youth organization. Expenses are covered only by income from generous donors like you, show related fees, and the use of donated equipment/services.

We are proud to say that the IBGA is one of the best youth organizations in Indiana. We continue to improve each year through generous financial support from local businesses, corporations and individuals which provides 100% of our operating budget.

Here are some of the highlights of the IBGA and why your support as a sponsor is important:

- ◆ IBGA programs teach life skills to our youth and prepares them to be the future leaders of agriculture and business in Indiana. Your support of their success now, helps them learn skills to succeed in school, life, and become the leaders of the livestock industry of tomorrow.
- ◆ GoatCon – an educational workshop open to youth and adults, focusing on several key areas, including husbandry, reproduction, nutrition, as well as animal selection, showmanship, and fitting for both market and breeding goats.
- ◆ Annual scholarship to a deserving junior or senior seeking higher education.
- ◆ More than 160 youth participate in our show series with nearly half receiving recognition at our annual banquet in the fall and awarded prizes including: show supplies, banners, belt buckles, clipper boxes and even a customized show box to our high point exhibitor thanks to sponsors like you!
- ◆ We are offering a DIAMOND SPONSOR package for each of our shows.
